ATTENTION STUDENTS!

Want an all-expenses paid trip to Las Vegas for SEG's 82nd Annual Meeting & Exposition in November 2012?
Then enter the 6th Annual Sooner Challenge Bowl!

The 6th Annual Sooner Challenge Bowl invites eight teams, consisting of two students (graduate or undergraduate) from any university or college, to go head-to-head in this exciting competition! This year's Sooner Challenge Bowl will take place during the AAPG/SEG Spring Break Student Expo in Norman, Oklahoma on Friday, March 16 and is an excellent opportunity for geosciences students to display their geophysical and geological knowledge in this fun, rapid fire, push-the-buzzer, who-can-answer-first contest.

Teams compete against opposing pairs, and the format consists of single- and multiple-choice questions from a range of geophysical and geological topics. The prize for the winning team is an expenses paid trip to SEG's 82nd Annual Meeting & Exposition in Las Vegas (November 2012) where they will compete in the 7th Annual SEG Challenge Bowl Finals and have the opportunity to win a cash prize. Students also have the opportunity to network with industry professionals, receive free admission to the SEG Annual Meeting and Technical Sessions, and attend additional student-related activities and events.

Are you up for the challenge? Well, we need you! We are currently looking for teams from our SEG Membership. If you have a team that would like to participate in this exciting and unique event, please select "SEG Challenge Bowl" on the 2012 Student Expo Registration Form.
